COLLEGE AND COUNCIL PARTNERSHIP PLAN TO KEEP SPORTS HALL AVAILABLE TO PUBLIC

Report by Henry James

Men-Aces manager hails "excellent result"

WEST Lancashire College has started discussions with the borough council with a view to forming a partnership that will allow college facilities to continue to be available to the community outside of its usual working hours.

If successful it will mean the town's disability football team the Skelmersdale Men-Aces can continue to use the college for their winter training.

Last week the Champion reported on how the manager of the Men-Aces, Carl Eaton had been told that from August 31 the sports hall at the college's campus would no longer be available for commercial hire.

Officials at the college had said that due to Government cuts it could no longer afford to hire out the facility outside of student hours.

The announcement was a bodyblow for the Men-Aces and Carl Eaton feared for the club's future.

However, the college now says that the proposed partnership with the local authority "comes at an opportune time" for both organisations allowing the college and the council to "strengthen the local opportunities" that will be available to Skelmersdale residents as part of the development of the proposed new Leisure and Wellbeing Hub.

This will also allow West Lancs Council to support the college in providing a range of existing and new community-focused activities for organisations and sports clubs.

In the future the two organisations are also planning to work together to enhance partnerships in a range of different ways that will support student employability, community partnerships and shared use of space.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, the council's cabinet member for leisure, said: "I am delighted that the council and the college are working together so that these excellent facilities will be available for residents to use outside of normal working hours."

And a relieved Carl Eaton commented: "This is a fantastic result, the college is a great facility in an ideal location, and all parties working together for the same reason can only be good for our local community.

"We have been told that we can use the hall now from September 17 until early April. The college added that for the first six weeks we can use the facilities free of charge, which is a great gesture.

"There had been a massive outcry last week

Delph Side staff travel to capital for teaching 'Oscars'

STAFF at Delph Side Community Primary School in Sklmersdale were invited to London to meet Education Secretary, Damian Hind at the House of Commons as part of the National Pearson Teaching award celebrations.

Delph Side was one of 68 Silver winners shortlisted in the awards - dubbed the UK's 'Oscars for teachers' - after being nominated in the Primary School Of The Year - Making A Difference category.

As well as receiving a prestigious Pearson Silver Teaching Award trophy, the Delph Side team have been shortlisted to win just one of 13 Gold Awards

Now representatives of the school will join fellow Silver Award winners at the 21st UK ceremony of the Pearson Teaching Awards, which is broadcast on BBC2 in October as "Britain's Classroom Heroes".

Headteacher, Liz Ormerod, said: "We were very proud to represent our community at this event and look forward to the BBC screening of the finals in October at The Roundhouse in Camden - where the Golden Plato Winner will be revealed."

CCG awarded second consecutive 'good' rating by NHS England

NHS WEST Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) has been rated as 'good' for a second consecutive year, following an annual assessment by NHS England.

The annual assessment rates each group in the country on a number of performance-based indicators against an improvement and assessment framework (CCG IAF).

This aligns key objectives and priorities as part of their aim to deliver their Five-Year Forward View. There are four available ratings - inadequate, requires improvement, good and outstanding.

Mike Maguire, chief officer at NHS West Lancashire CCG, said: "We are pleased to see this recognition and that we have retained a 'good' rating. NHS England specifically commended us for maintaining this rating despite the growing pressure that we find ourselves under.

"Like other CCGs and NHS organisations, we face rising costs, limited resources and high demand for services. Retaining this rating is a testament to the schemes we have developed, our vision and partnership working, and of course the hard work and determination of the team here at the CCG."

Mike Maguire: "Rating is a testament to the hard work and determination of the team here at the CCG."

The rating praised the progress the CCG has made in areas including its work around diabetes and dementia clinical indicators.

For diabetic patients this involved meeting all treatment targets as set out by The National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE) as well as incorporating education and self-help with education courses made available for all patients living with a diagnosis.

With regards to dementia, indicators included diagnosis rates, care planning and ongoing support for patients.

The CCG was also commended on its clear focus on children and young people, particularly through community-based schemes, such as the investment in an innovative fully immersive sleep therapy room at Twinkle House in Skelmersdale, which aids children who are having difficulties with their sleep.

They have also encouraged paediatric services in West Lancashire to work closer with Twinkle House; support for parents/carers with children living with autism, and a full review of children's services within primary, secondary and community care that they are in the midst of carrying out.

The CCG is currently undertaking a review of services for children and young people, which includes workshops and visioning with the third sector and patient groups, in order to identify where improvements can be made.

Another highlight within the rating is the 100 per-cent take-up of the CCG's extended GP access scheme which allows all patients in West Lancs to access a GP in the evening and weekends seven days a week, 365 days a year, including all bank holidays.

The CCG has also been recognised for its good working relationships with neighbouring commissioning groups, local authorities and providers.

Kamran's car bowls World Cup fans over!

Report by Henry James

Kamran and his car outside Lords

WHEN cricket fan Kamran Sohail was lucky enough to get a ticket for the Cricket World Cup Final at Lord's he decided to really get into the spirit of the occasion - by decorating his car with pictures of the England squad and the national flag!

And his efforts ensured that the cliff-hanging finales between the hosts and New Zealand wasn't the only thing that grabbed the fans' attention.

The 36-year-old, who plays for Skelmersdale Cricket Club, made the journey to the home of cricket in his car.

He said: "It took about five hours to get to the capital and I left on the Saturday before the game and stayed over.

"On the drive down to London lots of people took pictures of my car and gave me the thumbs-up. And on the day fans seemed very happy to see the car and there were lost of shouts of 'Good luck, England' as I passed.

"I also have a Pakistan flag on my car. and a sign for the British Pakistani Christian Community UK.

"Of course, the game was really exciting and there was a good spirit among the spectators.

"I was praying that our boys could do it, and make history by becoming the first England team to win the Cricket World Cup. It was a nail-biting finish, especially during the super overs."

And it wasn't just fellow fans who admired Kamran's efforts. "I saw some of the players after the game, including Adil Rashid, and they gave me the thumbs-up.

" I also spoke to former England captain Mike Gatting at the end of the game and had a selfie with him. I have been a big fan of his since childhood.

"Now I plan to keep the pictures of the team on my car to help promote cricket in Skelmersdale."

College and council partnership plan to keep sports hall facility available for use by the public when we were told we were to lose the facility. It would have had a big impact on the Men-Aces and our future would have been in serious doubt. There are profoundly handicapped people in the Men-Aces who are not able to play football outside during the winter months.

"We are also extremely grateful for the level of support we have received from members of the public."

Vice principal at West Lancashire College, Daniel Gorman, added: "We are delighted to be working with West Lancashire Borough Council to develop more community-focused activities that the people of West Lancashire will benefit from."

Charity golf day and ball raise more than £10,000 for charity

SKELMERSDALE-based charity Birchwood joined forces with Swingers Golfing Society for a second year running to host a charity golf day and evening ball at Hurston Hall.

Sponsored by many local businesses, the event raised more than £10,000 which will go towards supporting vulnerable and at-risk young people and adults.

A total of 88 golfers, including former Everton footballers and former world boxing champion Tony Bellew, took to the greens with the highlight being a hole in one scored by competitor Ollie Crotch.

That earned him a £5k prize and he promptly donated £1k back to Birchwood. Ollie said: "A hole in one, winning £5,000 and supporting Birchwood, a fabulous charity - it doesn't get much better than this."

Andy O'Sullivan from Swingers Golf Society was the inspiration behind the 5k sponsorship and was delighted to see this pay off on the day.

Chief executive of Birchwood, Stella Connell, said: "The charity golf day and charity ball really shines a light on the generosity of Swingers Golf society, local businesses and communities who donated so generously because they want and can make a difference to people's lives.

"I cannot thank Lee Caffrey from Proteus Facades, Michael Connell, Andy O'Sullivan, Paul Wilson and Leon Osman, former Everton player, enough for believing in Birchwood and putting on such a fantastic event which raised amazing amounts of money that will help our charity so much."

Residents encouraged to get involved in Community Action Days

RESIDENTS in six locations across West Lancs are being encouraged to get involved in Community Action and Engagement days in their neighbourhood.

The events in Birch Green, Clay Brow, Digmoor, Little Digmoor, the Scott Estate in Ormskirk and Tanhouse are being organised by West Lancashire Community Safety Partnership.

Staff from the borough council, police and fire and rescue service will be on the estates offering advice and support on community safety on the dates below.

Skips are available for members of the public to dispose of waste they are unable to take to local recycling centres. These will be available from 9am until they are full in the following locations:

•Monday, July 29 -Birch Green, Fairlie, car park on first turning on the left.

•Tuesday, July 30 -Digmoor, next to number 272 Blakehall.

•Wednesday, July 31 -Tanhouse, Community Centre Car Park on Ennerdale.

•Monday, August 5 - Clay Brow, back of Hope House on Brierfield.

•Tuesday, August 6 -Little Digmoor, behind shops on Acregate.

•Wednesday, August 7 - Scott Estate, outside shops on Scott Drive.

Police officers will be available on the days to give advice on crime prevention and other community safety issues. And knife bins will be available at all events where people can dispose of unwanted knives provided they are safely wrapped in tape and newspaper before being put in the bins.

The police will also be bringing along the Games Bus which is fitted with a new TV, a PS4 and two iPad Airs for young people to use.

Advice

Other service providers attending include the Change, Grow, Live Inspire team who can provide support on substance misuse issues and Lancashire Probation's Community Payback Team.

Council staff will be attending to provide information and advice on a number of subjects, including, fly-tipping; dog fouling; recycling; abandoned vehicles; refurbishment programmes for tenants' homes taking place over the coming months and how to improve health and wellbeing and prospects of employment.

Fire and rescue service personnel will give fire safety advice to all interested residents.

Heidi McDougall, chair of the West Lancashire Community Safety Partnership, said: "Community Action and Engagement Days are great events. They allow people who love our communities and strive to make them better places to get together, share ideas, and show the small minority who disrespect our communities we are working together.

"I'd like to thank all the organisations, ward councillors and individual residents who play a part to make them successful. I urge anyone who lives, works or socialises in the six different areas to come along, talk to all of the partners and show how strong we are in West Lancashire."

Free tai chi sessions to be held in Tawd Valley Park

LANCASHIRE County Council and Active West Lancashire have teamed up to provide six free sessions of tai chi in Tawd Valley Park, Skelmersdale.

Starting on Saturday, July 27 and running from noon to 1pm (meeting at the library at 11.45am), the sessions are being organised by Heather Reade, a tai chi and qi gong master, who already runs successful classes right across West Lancashire.

Tai chi combines deep breathing and relaxation with flowing movements. Originally developed as a martial art in 13th-Century China, it is now practised around the world as a health-promoting exercise

The essential principles are that the mind is integrated with the body for fluidity of movement, control of breathing and mental concentration.

People can start and continue to progress to higher level no matter what their age or physical condition. And although said to be an art with great depth of knowledge and skill, it is easy to learn and soon delivers its health benefits.

Variety

Skelmersdale East County Councillor John Fillis, said: "Prevention is better than cure so it's very important that we introduce people to a variety of different types of activities that improve their wellbeing.

"I know from personal experience that tai chi does enable people to participate no matter their age or ability. You don't need any equipment to train just easy fitting clothes and a good pair of flat shoes or trainers.

"It's important that we invest in people's wellbeing as it pays back massive dividends in the long term for our NHS, individuals and local communities.

"Tai chi also provides a fun factor that will encourage people to do more."

Reminder to have your say on new leisure hubs plans

WEST Lancs Council is reminding residents there is still time to give their views on proposals to replace ageing leisure centres in Ormskirk and Skelmersdale with state-of-the-art leisure and wellbeing hubs.

The council is running a public consultation on the proposals until Friday, August 2 and wants as many people as possible to get involved. The plans can be viewed and commented on at www.westlancshubs.co.uk.

Information and feedback forms are also available at Nye Bevan Pool, Skelmersdale and Park Pool, Ormskirk.

Plans for the proposed Ormskirk hub on Churchfields, include swimming pools, a 120-station fitness suite, dance and spinning studios, café and adventure soft play.

Following construction, Coronation Park would be improved as part of a proposed masterplan with the current Park Pool site being returned to parkland following the building's demolition.

Plans for the Skelmersdale hub include swimming pools, ten-pin bowling, climbing walls, a 120-station fitness suite, dance and spinning studios, café and adventure soft play. It will replace Nye Bevan Pool and is proposed to be on Ingram next to West Lancashire College and Asda.

Following construction, Nye Bevan Pool will be demolished and the site redeveloped as part of the wider town centre plan.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, the council's deputy leader and portfolio holder for leisure and human resources, said: "The council is grateful to everyone who has taken part in the consultation on the hubs which will give many more people the chance to enjoy getting fitter and healthier. But we would encourage everyone to give their views before the consultation closes to give us as wide a range of views as possible."

It is currently planned that both hub facilities will be operational in 2022. For more information on the project call Freephone number 0800 298 7040.

Work underway on new development at Whalleys South

First phase of project will deliver 120 homes followed by a further 179 subject to planning

LAURUS Homes and Seddon Construction have broken ground on a site at Whalleys South, Skelmersdale in the first phase of a project, which will see 120 homes delivered on land released by Homes England.

The development, a mix of two, three- and four-bedroom homes, is a multi-tenure scheme with 64 homes available for open market sale, 32 for shared ownership and 24 offered through 'affordable' rent.

Laurus Homes, a partnership between Trafford Housing Trust and L&Q Developments, expects the first homes in the opening phase of the project to be on the market in April 2020, with the scheme completing in November 2021.

The second and third phases, totalling an additional 179 homes, will follow, subject to planning.

The land was released by Homes England following a competitive tender.

Graeme Scott, development director at Trafford Housing Trust, said: "Considerable effort was put into the tender to ensure this strategic land drives regeneration, provides excellent homes, and helps people get a foot on the housing ladder – and now the hard work begins.

"Whalleys South is a key project in our development plan which will see 20,000 new homes built over the next 10 years by THT and our partner L&Q.

"Like the rest of the North West, Skelmersdale urgently needs great quality housing and we are determined to do our bit to ease and hopefully eradicate the housing crisis while helping communities thrive and councils achieve their economic success."

The site plan for the Whalleys development.

Michael Orgill, land and partnerships director at Seddon, added: "The high quality of design demanded by Laurus Homes matches our dedication to superior standards. This was evident in our partnership bid and we are determined to deliver the very best homes for local people.

"We have worked closely with THT on other projects and built a strong partnership with the team. Together with L&Q, THT has an ambitious development plan and we will do our part to help them achieve their goals."

The winners of West Lancashire Community High School's West Lancs Has Got Talent show with the Mayor and Deputy Mayor.

School's talent show wows civic judges

PUPILS at West Lancashire Community High School displayed their unique and diverse talents when the school hosted its annual West Lancs Has Got Talent show.

The Mayor and Deputy Mayor of West Lancs, Councillors Gynar Owen and Terry Aldridge, were given the unenviable task of choosing the winners at the event.

And staff at the school in School Lane, Skelmersdale, also joined in the fun by performing a 'flashmob' dance to the Village People hit YMCA which they had kept under wraps!

Paula Nixon, from the school, said: "It was a wonderful celebration of the unique and diverse talents and abilities we have in our school.

"With a third of the school performing, it was a tough job for the judges to decide on the winners and we were very lucky to have the pleasure of the company of the mayor and deputy mayor to help with the judging.

"This was a whole school event which was supported by the staff team and parents. There was even a mystery act which saw the staff do a flashmob dance to YMCA!

"Well done to all our performers - you are all stars!"

Dancers' Divine treat for care home residents

RESIDENTS at a Skelmersdale care home enjoyed a day of singing and dancing, courtesy of a local community arts company.

Members of Divine Days Creative Arts ran a session for elderly residents at the Aaron Crest home in Tanhouse Road.

Volunteers performed a dance routine at the home, encouraging residents to participate, either from their chairs or on their feet, depending on their mobility and also led a singalong.

Home manager, Adrienne Ratcliffe, said: "Residents who are not able to get out of the home or who have life-changing illnesses thoroughly enjoyed the visit from the group and hope they can do many more visits in future."

'Magical' Mary all set to pop up at shopping centre's new summer indoor park as school summer holidays begin MAGICAL Mary Poppins is heading to the Concourse in Skelmersdale this week to help entertain the town's children.

The legendary nanny will head to the new summer, indoor pop-up park which has been installed at the shopping centre's East Square, near Wilko, on Friday (July 26) between 11am and 1pm where she will meet the crowds, sign autographs and sing some of her favourite songs

The large chill-out area, which is decked out in artificial grass, with deckchairs, benches and beanbags, will also play host to a range of children's activities over the summer, until early September.

Every Thursday, at 11am, people can enjoy a one-hour yoga session, led by NewYou CSI activities, which will also host other activities including pop-up badminton and bike fixing workshops where shoppers get to keep the bike afterwards, as well as give-away free family activity packs.

Throughout the summer, the pop-up park area will have fun, free family activities, such as craft sessions, flower headband making, cress heads, bug hunt and circus skills. There will also be musical and other performers entertaining shoppers.

Paid-for activities will include Subway's Kids' Build Your Own, which will take place in the pop-up park on Friday, August 16 between 11am and 2pm, when youngsters can create their own Subway sandwich and add crisps or cookies and a drink.

Retail marketing manager at the Concourse, Jennifer Burnett, said: "We know the six-week school holidays can be tiring for parents, as they try to look for fun things to keep their children entertained, so we hope this colourful indoor pop-up park will provide a few hours' entertainment over the summer, even if it's raining outside."

For details of all the activities over the summer, visit the Concourse Facebook page.

Men-Aces show their mettle in Steel City

DESPITE recent setbacks off the field the Skem Men-Aces showed their customary steel on the field when they travelled to take part in a competition in Sheffield - despite facing unknown quantities in teams from Hereford, Newcastle and Nottingham.

Managers, Carl and Mim Eaton said: "It was obvious from the onset that our two teams were affected by all the uncertainty and the first game was a struggle for them.

"However they fought back in the second group stages and excelled from there. We grew stronger and stronger as each game presented itself with different challenges."

Men-Aces B finished third in their group, although Carl and Mim felt that it didn't reflect the way they played "up against some giants."

The Men-Aces A team found themselves in the final against their arch-nemesis Wrexham.

The Men-Aces A team with their winning medals.

Carl and Mim commented: "The match is always an absolute stunner between these two teams and it's usually down to whoever wants it most on the day."

A "sublime" goal from Theo Duke put the Skem side in the lead and the Men-Aces added a second to clinch their place on the winning podium.

Carl and Mim added: "This was a brilliant performance by both teams and definitely one to be proud of."

Grace aims to kick on with mission to promote grassroots football for girls

Report by Henry James

A UNIVERSITY graduate from Skelmersdale is raising money for girls' football through a company she started while studying for her degree.

Grace Vella, who graduated from the University of Manchester's faculty of biology, medicine and health this month with a first class honours degree in psychology, is also at the head of a new company that aims to empower and engage women and girls in football.

Started by 22-year-old Grace in her third year, while she was on placement with a charity supporting young homeless people, MissKick was launched at the annual Skem Athletic Tournament in 2018.

Through the sale of female-oriented football merchandise, MissKick is able to fund grassroots girls' football teams, with more than £500 raised so far.

As a student of the University of Manchester, Grace was eligible to take part in AccelerateME, a student start-up programme based in Greater Manchester. After a selection process in which she had to pitch her idea, she was one of 15 finalists from 125 applicants.

Grace Vella is aiming to continue her work for girls and women's football.

Through the programme, she was given funding, support and office space for six months, something she says supported her in establishing MissKick.

Football has always formed a large part of Grace's life. As a child, she played for her local team, before signing with Liverpool at 13 years old. At 18, she moved to Manchester City, and while she then left to pursue her degree, she remains heavily involved in the sport, currently playing for Chorley FC.

She said: "Manchester will always hold a special place in my heart. I'd never known anything other than Skelmersdale, so moving to a city like Manchester was a big transition. I've the best memories, and walking away with my first class degree is all that I've ever wanted.

"The university were super-supportive of MissKick and I can't thank my academic advisor, Alison, enough for the support she has given me"

One of her long-term goals for MissKick is to challenge the perception that football is a sport "just for boys", something she came up against growing up.

The recent surge of popularity around the FIFA Women's World Cup has encouraged Grace that the women's game is being noticed and taken seriously - as she points out, viewing figures for the semi-final between England and the USA beat those of the men's game's Champions League final earlier this year!

Now Grace - described as an "outstanding" student by the university's programme director of BSc Psychology, Alison Fisher - plans to focus on MissKick.

Rosebud fund to deliver £11.25m boost to businesses in county

LANCASHIRE County Council has selected investment specialist GC Business Finance (GCBF) to deliver its £11.25m Rosebud business finance fund to growing businesses in the county.

Under the new funding package, GCBF will oversee Rosebud loans from £10,000 to £300,000 for businesses in Lancashire over the next five years.

Rosebud aims to create around 150 new jobs per year and will focus on sectors such as aerospace, advanced manufacturing, digital and creative, energy and environment, health innovation and financial and professional services.

County councillor Michael Green, Lancashire's cabinet member for economic development, environment and planning, said: "Over the last 30 years Rosebud has helped thousands of businesses across Lancashire to expand by tapping into finance to create new jobs, move premises and invest in technology.

"We're incredibly pleased to be able to allocate a further £11.25m to support growing Lancashire businesses to achieve their growth aspirations. This will lead to new jobs being created, for the benefit of Lancashire residents."

Andy Walker, head of business growth and innovation at the county council, added: "GC Business Finance already works closely with the Access 2 Finance service in Lancashire and has strong relationships with local businesses and the professional services community.

"It will help provide a seamless transition for the delivery of Rosebud finance, helping businesses create employment opportunities, especially the graduate level jobs that can help us retain talent in Lancashire."

Established in 2002, GC Business Finance provides a range of alternative finance options for growing businesses that have been unable to obtain funding through a mainstream lender.

It delivers more than £60m in finance to over 5,000 small and medium-sized enterprises each year.

Paul Breen, director of GC Business Finance, commented: "Lancashire is a strong and vibrant economy and home to a vast number of successful businesses. However, some companies struggle to access funding through traditional means which is where Rosebud can play a vital role in helping them achieve growth.

"While we already deliver funding solutions in Lancashire, being able to offer Rosebud finance will add further value and capacity to the support we can offer to Lancashire businesses. We look forward to getting the Rosebud funds out to market and stimulating further economic growth."

GC Business Finance's Lancashire team will work alongside Lancashire County Developments Ltd, part of the council's economic development service, to provide finance to Lancashire businesses.

Businesses interested in applying for Rosebud finance can do so via the Lancashire County Council website and through Boost Business Lancashire.

Hospital trust to recruit 100 more nursing and healthcare staff

Extra £1m made available for staff investment after delivery of 'challenging' budget last year

THE Southport and Ormskirk Hospitals NHS Trust is set to recruit 100 more nurses, and healthcare assistants.

Following a £1m investment, the trust is holding a recruitment event for new nursing staff on Tuesday, July 30 between 5 and 8pm in the Clinical Education Centre at Southport Hospital.

Roles available at this are for band five registered nurses and student nurses soon to qualify. The trust is especially keen to speak to those wanting to return to the organisation, looking for flexible work patterns and anyone keen for a rotational post.

There will be a separate event to recruit healthcare assistants in August.

Trust chief executive, Silas Nicholls, said "We are delighted to be in a position to invest an extra £1m on nursing staff over the next 12 months. This additional funding comes as a result of delivering a challenging budget last year. Every pound we save through being more efficient is one pound back to spend on patient care."

During the recruitment event, teams will be on hand to answer questions about different departments and what it is like to work at the trust.

Advice will be available about career development and training and NHS professionals will also be on hand to help those looking for temporary roles with the nursing bank.

Anyone interested can attend the event between 5 and 8pm on a drop-in basis, or you can apply online beforehand at www.southportandormskirk.nhs.uk/working-with-us/vacancies/, where you can also see other roles available at the trust.

The Southport and Ormskirk Hospitals NHS Trust is recruiting 100 more nurses and healthcare staff.

Director of nursing, midwifery and therapies, Juliette Cosgrove, added: "We find recruitment events like this make the job application process easier for busy nurses or students. You can just pop along for an hour or so and potentially go home with a job offer.

"We are in a much stronger position now than in recent years, with increased investment in staffing, facilities and our buildings, which will help us to improve our service to match increasing demands. We are keen to talk to nurses in the area about the opportunities ahead for our trust and staff."

Police urge public to hand in guns and ammunition

Ormskirk one of six stations in county taking part in nationwide surrender

PEOPLE in Lancashire are being urged to hand in guns and ammunition as part of a two-week nationwide firearms 'surrender' which started on Saturday (July 20).

During the surrender period weapons can be handed in at six police stations in the county, including Ormskirk.

Although firearms incidents are low in Lancashire compared to some other areas, officers say even one incident is one too many.

It is believed some people may hold firearms in innocence or ignorance of their illegality - for example, a stun gun-type device or pepper spray bought on-line - or they may have older items in their homes which have been overlooked or forgotten.

However, these can still be lethal if they get into the wrong hands so officers are encouraging people to take this opportunity to dispose of any firearms or ammunition they may have, whatever their age.

Surrendering unwanted, unlicensed weapons avoids the risk of them becoming involved in criminality and means that members of the community can dispose of firearms in a safe place.

Anyone handing over firearms will not face prosecution for the illegal possession upon surrender and can remain anonymous.

Inspector Nigel Barraclough from Lancashire Constabulary's tactical operations department, said: "We want as many weapons as possible and would encourage people to use this opportunity to hand them in. We'd also encourage anyone who knows about weapons being kept illegally to tell us anonymously where they are and potentially help save a life.

"One weapon off the streets is one less that can be used to harm or threaten our communities. We will use all of the powers and information available to us to locate this criminality and put a stop to it for good."

Weapons and ammunition should be surrendered at the designated local police stations but people are advised to check opening times first by visiting Lancashire.police/uk. Anyone physically unable to get to a station can call 101 for advice.

If you know of people involved in illegal firearms you can call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111, report it online at Lancashire.police.uk/report it or call 101.

Tickets on sale now for Rainbow House fundraising ball

Report by Danielle Thompson

TICKETS are on sale now for an annual fundraising dance in aid of Mawdesley-based Rainbow House which provides life-changing therapies for children and young adults with physical and neurological disabilities.

The charity's third Paradise Ball will be held at the Ambassador Suite at Formby Hall Golf Resort on Saturday, September 21.

Organised by Lisa and Paul Maddison, whose daughter Katie has attended conductive education at Rainbow House since she was a baby, the aim is to raise much-needed funds for the charity which relies on the generosity and support of individuals, the local community, events, grants from trusts and corporate donations.

Now aged 12, Katie was born with an undiagnosed global brain disorder which results in severe and multiple disabilities. Rainbow House has provided Katie and many others with the skills and confidence to achieve goals no one would ever have thought possible.

This year's event has been boosted by a £2,000 donation by Luke Martin, managing director of Total Facility Solutions Ltd. (TFS) in Liverpool, an independent facilities management providers.

The TFS Group will also provide further funding during the evening, together with support from clients and staff, which they expect will at least double the initial figure.

Luke, a 35-year-old father-of-four from Formby, who recently visited Rainbow House to meet Katie and to see the work that the charity does, said: "An integral part of our success story is measured by our ability to continue to support charities across the region.

Lisa Maddison (left) and daughter Katie with Rainbow House staff Rachel Holland and Zara Rimmer, and Luke Martin

"Rainbow House is an amazing charity that receives no Government funding and is solely reliant on self-funding in order to continue the wonderful support they provide to children and young adults with complex disabilities.

"As a father of four children and an avid family man, it was paramount to me that we help the Rainbow House continue its amazing work. We are delighted and proud to provide corporate support.

"There are a few tables left for this year's event which will be hosted by John Nelson and the tickets are £45 each which includes a welcome drink, four-course meal and music from The Wickermen.

"A group of brave male guests will be raising extra funds by performing a dance routine to 'Copacabana' on the night.

"Anyone wishing to join in a fun-packed night with great entertainment and prizes, in aid of a good cause, can contact Lisa Maddison on 07962599603."

Surely we have the right to challenge the status quo and not simply 'get on with it'?

RE: the recent letters by Dave B and Gavin Fulton about the Conservative Party leadership contest.

Dave seems to have misconstrued my point about the age of the Conservative Party members.

The point I was making was that 50% or more of the members are older than 55, whereas in the national population as a whole this number is only 30%. It is not proportionate and therefore not representative of the British people.

And regarding Gavin's letter, I should wish to clarify that, although I do fully understand how our voting system works, it does not mean that it is relevant or appropriate today.

Gavin seems to think that we should simply accept this blatant injustice, but I was under the impression that in this country our democratic rights allow us to question the status quo, not simply get on with it.

We are enduring such political turmoil because people are disillusioned with the system and have had their voices ignored for too long. The Brexit vote arose as a result of these sentiments and signalled a desire for change, but perhaps that change should come to the antiquated political traditions in place today.

When a sitting MP leaves their post, a by-election takes place in which all voters in the constituency get a say. Of course, this situation is slightly different but why can't we adopt a similar system when electing a new Prime Minister?

Gavin's assumption about my age was correct. I am 16 and the man who will be the next Prime Minister will have a significant impact on my life in the ensuing years. How is it right, then, that people such as myself should not control the fate of this country?

Yes, Conservative members should have a vote on the matter, but the rules should be changed to allow the rest of the country a say on their own future as well.

Joseph Caygill, Ormskirk.

It's better the Tory party should tear itself to pieces than the UK

MR Fulton's letter (July 10) is extremely patronising towards Joseph Caygill's earlier letter on the state of our democracy, whereby the most crucial decision in our last 50 years could be decided by an unrepresentative 1% of our voting population.

This clique of Tory party members is set to choose our own self-centred Trump look-alike, easy with lies and with an appalling political and personal track record.

I can only hope his latest flagrant display of greater loyalty towards Trump than to his civil servants, such as Kim Darroch, will finally make the Tory clique realise Mr. B. Johnson to be totally unworthy.

My greater hope is that the Tory party will finally tear itself to pieces before the United Kingdom itself splits. Voters will prefer to turn to parties such as the Green Party or Lib Dems, who are united behind the desire not to see Britain spilt up and be economically devastated by Brexit.

John Watt, Ormskirk.

Rumours of The Dollymops' demise have been exaggerated

I WOULD like to reassure activities co-ordinators in care homes and groups for the older members of the community, that contrary to the rumours being circulated, our voluntary organisation, The Dollymops is indeed still up and running and is very busy with our latest show, Those Were The Days.

People attending the show in the Tarleton Bowling Club in late June were delighted with our entertainment and they will affirm that we are most definitely not yet dead!

However, we are still wishing to recruit a male and female member for our group who is available in the afternoons, so if any of your readers can sing in tune, has a great sense of humour and doesn't mind hard work, please contact Dave or Anne on 01772 812845.

The Dollymops' aim is to make a difference by bringing a lively show to those people who are not always able to travel to theatres. And whilst we do enjoy ourselves, I should stress that having fun for our ourselves is a consequence of having always put our customers' needs first.

If you are unsure as to whether you would fit into our group, telephone us, have a chat and come and meet us. It is truly rewarding work, though not in monetary terms!

Anne Wynne-Jones,
The Dollymops, Tarleton.

Trams instead of trains would just mean an extra, unwanted journey

I AM writing in response to Cuthbert Jackson's letter (July 17) claiming that bringing a heavy rail into Skelmersdale would be a waste of money, which filled me with disbelief.

The idea of a light rail tramway to Up Holland railway station makes little sense when you consider it would mean an added journey and connection to travellers. The new railway would be a service that mainly benefited non car-users, people who already use public transport and they want as few connections as possible when travelling.

Catching a train from a central railway station in Skelmersdale to Liverpool, and possibly Wigan, by direct route, is far more preferable than an added journey with resulting connection in using a tramway.

Therefore, I believe it's sensible for the town to be connected using the heavy rail option.

PICTURE of the week

THIS picture of the Queen Mary ocean liner leaving Liverpool en route to New York last week was submitted by reader Kevin Hilton from Aughton Park and shot from Clieves Hills, Aughton.

If you would like to submit a photo to be considered for our Picture of the Week slot, you can simply email it to us at editorial@champnews.com.
Please remember to include your name, the area where you live and brief caption details.
Although we cannot publish ALL the photos we receive, we do appreciate your contributions, thank you.

Thanks for your help, folks

I WOULD like to say thank-you to everyone who helped my daughter on Monday, July 15 when she had a seizure in the car as we were travelling along Prescot Road in Ormskirk.

Thanks to the police medic who got her out of the car and put her into the recovery position; the two nurses who were driving past and stopped to help; the two teachers who ran up from St Bede's school; and the lady from the house that we stopped outside.

You were all amazing and I'm pleased to say that Megan is fine.

Helen Wilson, Aughton.

Reporting potholes online worked for me

WITH reference to G.W's letter (July 17) about potholes and their disbelief that the public are being asked to help identify them.

I actually can believe the council are asking for help in reporting sites in the area. How else are they going to know about them?

I read the original article myself, used the web page to list two holes in my road and three days later they were both filled. I would say that was pretty efficient and probably quicker than writing to the local paper too.

New leisure hub plan deserves support not criticism

TO the 'Concerned Ormskirk Resident' objecting to Church Fields being used for the replacement to Park Pool, I have to disagree with your suggestion of using the old Hants Lane college as a supposedly 'cheaper option'.

Firstly, the council does not own that site, so they would need to buy it. They would then have to demolish all the buildings at great cost, to allow the new pool and facilities to be constructed.

Finally, Hants Lane is a small road just off the town's busy one-way system, so siting the pool there would add to already congested roads.

In contrast, the Church Fields site is council-owned, easily accessible from the A59 (County Road) and far easier to construct on with no existing buildings present.

And regarding any fears that the existing Park Pool would not be converted back to parkland to compensate for the loss of the field, that would be easily resolved by a planning condition which would be legally enforceable and so would commit the council to ensure it happens.

I, for one, fully support the well thought-out plans, and instead of making undeliverable demands and criticisms I would encourage other residents to support the council in delivering what would be a hugely valuable asset for the town.

A Realistic Ormskirk Resident.

Spectacular Green Fayre wows the crowds again

AN estimated 10,000 visitors flocked to Beacon Country Park at the weekend for the return of the Green Fayre.

Organised by West Lancs Council's Parks and Countryside Ranger Service, the free-to-enter extravaganza once again proved a huge success with a host of attractions to entertain and educate.

A mixed bag of weather made for a tricky weekend in the arena, but fabulous displays by Horus Birds of Prey, the West Lancashire Dog Display Team and the show's resident Viking horde, Regia Anglorum wowed the crowds and kept everybody entertained.

The Working Woodlands area drew large crowds of spectators who enjoyed seeing a wide range of local craftsfolk showing both modern and contemporary green woodworking and metalworking skills.

Visitors could also learn how a variety of traditional machinery is used and see how woodlands can be sustainably-worked to produce all kinds of tools and everyday items.

The show"s marquees provided welcome shelter during showers and visitors were treated to a full line-up of live music to enjoy while sampling some of the fabulous cuisine and refreshments available to buy from a range of local caterers.

There were also a range of craft and charity stalls and activities to enjoy and support.

Meanwhile the fayre's farm area offered an opportunity to get up close to a range of domestic and farmyard animals and learn about the work involved in looking after them. There were also a range of animal charities present supporting both local and international projects.

Left: Some of the estimated 10,000 visitors who flocked to the event.

For the more adventurous there was a chance to have a go at a wide range of outdoor pursuits including caving, climbing, archery, axe-throwing, donkey rides and bushcraft skills, and, of course, there were also bouncy castles and traditional fairground rides.

The showground was alive with people throughout the weekend with visitors and stallholders alike commenting on the family atmosphere and 'buzz' generated by the fayre.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, the council's cabinet member for leisure, said: "Once again the Green Fayre lived up to its reputation as the area's biggest and best free countryside event, bursting with activities for all the family.

"I would like to thank all the officers and volunteers who work so hard to organise such a marvellous event for our local community and for people visiting our borough to enjoy. Each year the show goes from strength to strength and I for one can't wait for Green Fayre 2020!"

Residents who have a craft or stall and would like to be involved in next year's show can register their interest by emailing greenfayre@westlancs.gov.uk or by telephoning 01695 622794.

Planning Ahead

Nobody likes to think about their own mortality and this is often cited as the main reason why most people do not put in place a Will. The reality is though, that if you do put a Will in place, then on your death your estate may end up in the hands of people who you would never dream of benefitting and, although rare, in the hands of the Crown.

Putting in place a Will can also assist with Inheritance Tax planning and while the rules relating to Inheritance Tax have changed favourably in the last few years, with the introduction of the Residential Nil Rate Band for qualifying estates, the reality is that the Inheritance Tax allowance has remained frozen at £325,000 since 6th April 2009, over 10 years. Over that period inflation has increased by more than 36%. For the previous financial year, HMRC collected £5.4 billion in Inheritance Tax receipts with this expected to increase in future years as property prices rise.

There are also steps you can take in a Will to help protect your estate from potential future care costs. By using trusts, assets can be protected for future beneficiaries. The average costs of a year in a care home can easily reach well over £50,000.

When thinking about a Will, you should also put in place a Lasting Power of Attorney to enable people you have nominated to look after your finances and welfare if you cannot do so yourself. This covers if you were to develop Alzheimer's or dementia in future, as well as other circumstances. If you do not have a Lasting Power of Attorney in place beforehand, you cannot put one in place once you have lost the capacity to do so and this can cause a lot of problems for you and your family.

When putting in place a Will and Lasting Power of Attorney, the advice of a qualified solicitor should always be sought. It is all too common, with so much information available online, for people to try and do their own Will and Lasting Power of Attorney only for mistakes to be made which can lead to family disputes and financial consequences.

Therefore, if you want to have any say on where your estate ends up, want to make sure that as much of your estate as possible ends up with your family and want to have some say over who looks after your finances and welfare if you can't, then you should put in place a Will and Lasting Power of Attorney, prepared by a qualified and regulated solicitor.

We have been established over 200 years and have the experience and knowledge to guide you through the process. We offer home visits and free storage for legal documents. If you would like further information please contact our offices or visit our website.

Inspirational Mary is still caring for others...aged 87!

A CARER in her 80s who has worked in the role for more than four decades, is the winner of our 'Nominate a Carer' competition.

Mary Houghton, 87, was nominated by her friend and colleague, Mary Paget, for the competition hosted by the team at Co-Op Brookfields Funeral Care based in Shakespeare Street, Southport.

We received entries from across Sefton and West Lancs, but Mary, who is still working well into her eighth decade at Tudor Bank Nursing Home on Beach Road in Southport, was chosen for her 'inspirational commitment to the workplace'.

Mary, along with her friend and colleague, Maureen Stoker, was picked up in a chauffeur-driven limousine and taken to the Auberge Brasserie where they were treated to a three-course meal.

Georgina Nolan, funeral director at Brookfields Funeral Care, also presented Mary with a bouquet of flowers, courtesy of Sweeneys Florist on Bispham Road, before Mary and Maureeen were taken back home in the limousine. The competition was held to mark Carers Week, an annual initiative to raise awareness and recognise the huge contribution of carers.

Report by Danielle Thompson

In her nomination, Mary Paget, wrote: "Mary has been a carer for over 40 years, both in the NHS and now at Tudor Bank.

"She is outstanding and truly possesses all the qualities of someone you would want to care for you or your loved ones. She is kind-hearted and nothing is too much trouble for her. She'll hold your hand when you feel lost or sad, dry your tears and be there with you, she will also dance with you and make you laugh with her Irish wit!

"She is inspirational and brings commitment to the workplace. She supports younger staff to enjoy what they are doing through her example. She has high standards, providing dignity and self-esteem with genuine human kindness for all and is highly respected by those who work with her.

"Last year she had a serious fall resulting in a fractured hip and wrist and spent months recovering with just one aim in mind, to get back to work!

"At 87, she takes 12-hour shifts in her stride and says that she will only give up caring when she is put in a box!"

ONE MAN and his dog
with JIM SHARPE

E-scooters are a hazard - both to the users and other people!

I READ the other day about a young woman who has become the first person in Britain to be killed riding one of those e-scooters when she was in collision with a lorry.

And the following day a 14-year-old boy received serious head injuries when he crashed his e-scooter into a bus stop.

I know little about these e-scooters, but I did see one a week or two ago being ridden along the pavement in Lord Street, Southport at, I would estimate, something like 10mph.

At the time I thought the thing looked dangerous - its little wheels could so obviously be knocked sideways by any irregularity of the pavement - and on a public road the danger is far worse. What would an e-scooter do confronted by a pothole?

I understand it is illegal to use an e-scooter either on a public pavement or on a road - yet these costly (around £200) accidents waiting to happen can be bought at reputable High Street stores. Some of these machines can do up to 30mph, though you'd have to be a braver (and sillier) man than I am to try it.

Not surprisingly friends of 35-year-old Emily Hartridge are demanding a ban on their use and sale - a no-brainer as far as I am concerned.

But just as disturbing were some of the letters about this tragic incident that appeared. One tried to compare e-scooters with pedal and electrically-assisted cycles though the difference in wheel sizes alone make this comparison ridiculous.

Others twittered on about how environmentally-friendly these machines are. So is walking, and very soon electric cars and even buses will become eco-friendly too.

And since users of e-scooters are not officially allowed on the road, their users have no legislation to compel them to use crash helmets or be insured (which I reckon push-bikers should be as well).

Yet ridden at speed on a pavement they could cause serious damage to property, not to mention to anyone unfortunate enough to be hit by one of these machines.

I don't want to be a spoilsport or a wet blanket - if I was a 10-year-old and was offered an e-scooter as a present I would jump at the chance. But if I were a responsible parent I certainly would never have given one to my son or daughter, unless there was a secure area, away from people and vehicles, where they could ride reasonably safely (and also wear protective clothing, including a helmet).

I remember some years ago now when chopper bikes became popular and quite often a scourge on pavements so far as ordinary pedestrians were concerned, that I advocated special areas set aside for their use, complete with slopes and bumps to provide excitement.

The problem then was, of course, not really finding the land to create such adventure courses, but the cost to the site owner of insurance for its users.

The same drawback applied to off-road motorbikes too. At one time they became a major nuisance locally and one responsible local landowner offered the use of a field for off-roaders to enjoy themselves in.

Again, this philanthropic plan fell through when the landowner discovered just how much insurance cover he would need to provide - and the cost of it.

Things like that are simply a fact of modern life and it's no use rattling on about how e-scooters are fashionably 'green' if they are also inherently lethal.

Mind you, what hope have we really got that pointing out that using e-scooters on public roads and pavements is illegal? So is the riding of bicycles on pavements and cyclists are also supposed to have 'an audible warning of approach' - it used to be called a cycle bell, but apparently such a thing is far too naff for thousands of would-be Tour de France cyclists today.

Perhaps if e-scooters were limited to a maximum speed of perhaps 5mph they could (subject to suitable clothing) be treated as a fun thing for children, But as it is they are a menace to society - and those who choose to ride them.

RSPCA calls for mandatory licensing and stricter control of airguns in bid to stamp out animal attacks CHARITY officials are calling for mandatory licensing of airguns in a bid to protect animals from being shot.

Figures released by the RSPCS revealed that nationally there were 767 calls about airgun attacks on animals last year, including 19 in Lancashire. The majority were about attacks on cats, although dogs, pigeons and foxes were also commonly targeted.

As well as mandatory licensing, the RSPCA is calling for a range of measures to tackle the problem of airguns. The charity's chief inspectorate officer, Dermot Murphy, said: "During last year alone we received 767 reports of attacks where airguns were used on animals across England and Wales. Animals are suffering horrendous injuries and often dying as a result of airgun attacks and these weapons are also potentially extremely dangerous for people.

"Every one of the 258 pet cats and 73 dogs deliberately killed or maimed last year by people using airguns represents a devastated family. And the cruelty continues, with large numbers of wild mammals and birds, including foxes, squirrels, swans, gulls and pigeons, targeted as well. We believe airgun misuse is happening on a large scale and what we see at the RSPCA could be the tip of the iceberg.

"We believe that stricter controls are long overdue. Mandatory licensing would be an effective start, but we also need improved enforcement of airgun legislation, as well as better, more targeted education and explanation of the law for those buying one."

Nearly half of vets who replied to a British Veterinary Association survey in 2016 said they had treated cats which had been victims of airgun crime and nearly half those incidents had proved fatal.

Mr Murphy added: "Animals continue to be maimed and killed every year so the RSPCA is calling on the Government to bring in tighter restrictions such as licensing, which we know worked in Scotland, resulting in a 75% drop in animal-related complaints in its first year."

Edge Hill music students record first 'homemade' album

Project realises lecturer's vision for university's state-of-the art facilities to showcase talent

MUSIC production students at Edge Hill University have produced their first album using the university's own state-of-the-art recording facilities.

The compilation album, called Seeds, features Ormskirk singer and guitarist David Hughes, 24, working under the guise Charity Shop Pop, with his self-penned track Charlotte.

David's track is among 13 original compositions from a host of vocalists and musicians undertaking their three-year programme at the Ormskirk campus.

The project realises the vision of Gary Westhead, senior lecturer in music sound and audio production and programme leader for music production, to provide a showcase for students while also offering valuable studio and recording experience.

He said: "The album is a showcase of the students' work that demonstrates their skills in composing, performing and recording music.

"As such, it is a valuable tool for them as they enter the job market, as well as an expression of their creativity, commitment, enthusiasm and determination."

The tracks were recorded at Edge Hill's own state-of-the-art studios and also at the Parr Street Studios in Liverpool, famous for hosting an eclectic range of artists including Coldplay, the Spice Girls, Justin Bieber and Rihanna.

The album is available to listen to at www.edgehill.ac.uk/news/2019/05/ba-hons-music-production-playlist/.

Meanwhile the music of David Hughes is also available to hear at www.soundoud.com by searching Charity Shop Pop.

David Hughes, performing as Charity Shop Pop at the Sound City Music Festival in Liverpool.

David's music, which is described as indie-influenced 80s synth pop, has featured on local radio and has been released as singles on the university's own record label, Label Recordings.

He has also played the music festival, Liverpool Sound City.

Others from the local area to feature on the Seeds album include Sam D'Auvin from Crosby on piano and keyboards, Patrick Ball from Southport on bass and Sam Davidson, also from Southport on piano.

Pupils get 'hands-on' experience of work on a busy building site

...and learn the importance of safety

PRIMARY school pupils were given an insight into what goes on at a busy building site - the dangers and the career opportunities - when they visited a neighbouring new development.

Infants and juniors from Lathom Park Primary, along with staff members, were invited to go along to the Lathom Pastures estate in Firswood Road, Skelmersdale by builder Bellway Homes.

The educational visit comprised a health and safety-focused introduction to the residential development and included an overview of the different job roles and processes that go into the construction of the new homes.

Pupils from Lathom Park Primary with Bellway assistant site manager Anthony Doyle.

Accompanied by Bellway's assistant site manager, Anthony Doyle, the children were invited to don hard hats and high visibility vests for a tour of the perimeter of the site where they witnessed the different tradesmen and bigger pieces of machinery in action.

Along the way, Anthony stressed the importance of health and safety, highlighting the many dangers that the children would face if they strayed onto a working construction site.

And the visit concluded with pupils being given the chance to try their hands at bricklaying by creating a small wall.

Headteacher at the Hall Lane school, Carol McIlwain, said: "The visit to Lathom Pastures was a super experience for the children as they were able to gain an appreciation of the build process and see a number of different careers in action.

"It was also very useful to highlight the many hazards on working developments, especially as this one is so close to our school. We are very grateful to Bellway and I'm sure the children will talk about it for many months to come."

Anthony Doyle commented: "It was a pleasure to welcome the group. The children were very well behaved and showed a real interest in the development taking place. I hope we've inspired some of them to consider construction as a future career once they leave school."

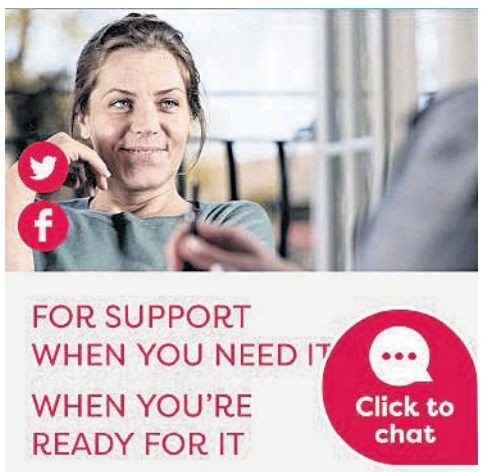
Online chat service launched to support victims of crime

LANCASHIRE Victim Services has launched an online live chat service offering people a new way to find out about the support available and how to get the help and advice they may need.

It is available now on their website, lancashirevictimservices.org.

Funded by the county's police and crime commissioner Clive Grunshaw, Lancashire Victim Services offers emotional support and practical help following any type of crime with specialist services available for victims of domestic abuse, rape and sexual assault, hate crime, and young victims up to the age of 18.

Paul Cartwright, operations manager for Lancashire Victim Services, said: "Not everyone finds it easy to pick up the phone and speak to someone they don't know. The chat offers people a different way to contact us to find out more about how we can help and they can do so anonymously if they prefer.



The online live chat service for victims of crime in the county is now up and running.

Positive impact

"It is proving popular already. During the first week we were able to support a victim of domestic abuse and secured a place in a local shelter for her. This happened within 24 hours of her using the chat to speak to one of our advisers online.

"Taking that first step to ask for support is difficult for many people and providing an additional way to do so which some people may find easier is a great step forward.

"People can still contact us over the phone, through our online form or via email, but I hope that the option to use the live chat will give even more people the confidence to get in touch."

Commissioner Mr Grunshaw added: "Over the past year Lancashire Victim Services received over 67,000 referrals from across the county. From speaking to victims I know just how much of a difference the service can make and what a positive impact it can have on people's lives.

"Bringing the support online and offering a digital way for people to engage with the service directly is really positive. Anything we can do to make that first step easier for victims of crime is a step in the right direction and I would encourage anyone in need of support to get in touch with Lancashire Victim Services in whichever way they feel most comfortable."

The new live chat is available Monday to Friday between 9am and 5pm. Anyone affected by crime can contact Lancashire Victim Services by accessing the web chat at lancashirvictimservices.org, by calling 0300 323 0085 or by emailing info@lancashirevictimservices.org.

Friendship group's 'come and join us' call

MEMBERS of a West Lancs group which aims to help people who are feeling lonely or isolated are inviting newcomers to join their ranks.

The Banks Social Group meets from 10.30am to noon on Thursdays at Banks Community Centre in Hoole Lane to enjoy a cuppa and a chat.

Member, Sue Barker, said: "The group was initially set up just over 12 months ago to help people who were feeling lonely and isolated.

"People who come to the group have said how much of a difference it has made to their lives, as they now have a new circle of friends who they enjoy meeting each week.

"The group also enjoys other activities, such as going to the cinema and theatre, and we have been to Lytham for a day out and regularly go out for lunch .

"If you would like to know more then why not come and join us on a Thursday or give me a call on 07824 097738. You would be made most welcome and we would love to see you!"

Families urged to talk about organ donation as law is set to change

WITH the law about organ donation set to change in 2020, families in Lancashire are being urged to make and share their organ donation decision

According to the Organ Donation and Transplantation Activity Report 2018/19 published last week, more people than ever before across the UK - 1,600 - donated their organs after death last year. In Lancashire 30 people gave the gift of life, by donating organs after death.

However, the report also shows that across the country fewer people died in circumstances where they were able to donate - 225 fewer than in 2017/18. And officials at NHS Blood and Transplant say this means it's more important than ever that every person who wants and is able to donate their organs after death, is given the opportunity to do so.

Sadly, in Lancashire over the last five years, 61 people died before they received the organ they desperately needed.

Organ donation is relatively rare in the UK, because although around half a million people die each year, only around 1% do so in circumstances which allow organs to be donated.

But from spring 2020, the law around organ and tissue donation in England is changing and all adults will be considered as having agreed to donate their own organs when they die unless they record a decision not to donate or are in one of the excluded groups. These include under-18s, people who lack mental capacity, visitors to England, those not living here voluntarily and people who have lived here for less than 12 months before their death.

Anthony Clarkson, director of organ donation and transplantation at NHS Blood and Transplant.

Adults covered by the change will still have a choice whether they want to be an organ donor and their families will still be involved before donation goes ahead.

Director of organ donation and transplantation at NHS Blood and Transplant, Anthony Clarkson said: "We're incredibly grateful to all the courageous donors and their families across the country, who helped us to save so many lives last year.

"Organ donation is the only hope for many desperately ill people. We know many families feel a sense of pride and comfort from their decision to let their final act to be saving lives through organ donation.

"No lifesaving transplant would be possible without the generosity of every donor and their families, who give their support and say 'yes' to organ donation.

"There are 129 people in Lancashire waiting for a transplant now. Their only hope for a new life is that a family in their time of grief will make the wonderful decision to agree to organ donation.

"With the law around organ donation changing in England from next spring, we urge everyone to find out about the choices available to them, make their decision and share it with their family."

Gingerbread Festival goes down a treat...

THE committee and members of Ormskirk Community Partnership (OCP) have thanked the people of Ormskirk and visitors for helping to make Gingerbread Festival 2019 another great success.

Many quarters came together to make it possible, they say, including the local retailers who left the organisers overwhelmed with offers of prizes for the free raffle.

More than 30 prizes were up for grabs in the draw, plus a donation from Church Street Jewellers who commissioned a bespoke silver Gingerbread Man pendant especially for this year's festival.

Although figures for how many attended are not yet available, the town centre was clearly packed for the occasion.

And members of the OCP stressed that such an enjoyable day would not have been possible without the invaluable help and assistance from the many groups that took part.

As well as significant assistance from West Lancs Council, other organisations were able to get involved including the local air cadets from 1026 (Ormskirk) Squadron ATC who were on hand to give out entry forms for the free raffle; younger children from Base Dance who entertained the crowds with their 'flash mob'; and new theatre company Short Scruffs (graduates of Edge Hill University) who performed their first play, The Jumper, to groups of enthralled children.

Ormskirk Community Partnership chairman, Dave Mutch, said: 'It was a great day, and we are pleased so many people went away happy. We're already looking forward to 2020!"

Members of the Ormskirk Partnership Committee at the Gingerbread Festival with Deputy Mayor and Mayoress of West Lancs, Councillor Terry Aldridge and Megan Aldridge, and town cryer Don Evans.

Crowds flocked to Ormskirk town centre for this year's Gingerbread Festival.

Care trust welcomes positive feedback

HEALTH chiefs at Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust have welcomed survey results showing that feedback from service users, their carers, families and friends, is overwhelmingly positive.

The results of more than 7,100 Friends and Family Test (FFT) surveys completed during January to June this year showed that 96.3% of people who used a trust service as a patient, carer or relative would recommend it and the service they received.

Broken down, the results found that 98.7% of responders would recommend the Community & Wellbeing Network; 91.2% would recommend the Mental Health Network; and 94.5% would recommend the Children & Young People Network.

Julie Seed.

Deputy director of nursing and quality at the trust, Julie Seed, said: "The Friends and Family Test is instrumental in supporting the NHS to understand what is working well, what can be improved and how we can work together to drive service improvement for the people who use our services. It also provides the public with a voice to be able to feedback about their experience of care, be this positive or negative or somewhere in the middle.

"We know so many of our staff out there are working extremely hard to provide high-quality, compassionate care to our service users, however we are immensely proud to have reassurance of this through this year's FFT feedback."

MotorFest 'star' cars line up for preview of big day

A FANTASTIC line-up of cars will be on show in Ormskirk town centre on Saturday, July 27 for a preview of Ormskirk MotorFest 2019.

This year's event is scheduled for Sunday, August 25 when up to 300 cars and motorcycles from all eras of motoring on display in Coronation Park and town centre. And there will be a taste of what will be on offer when a selection of competition and classic vehicles are displayed on Moorgate, close to the Queens Head, on Saturday to officially launch the countdown to Ormskirk MotorFest 2019.

Meanwhile there are still some spaces in the annual Concours d'Elegance competition which will see some of the very best cars and motorcycles lined up in a special area in Coronation Park. To enter visit https://ormskirkmotorfest.com. Entries cost £15 and close on Sunday, August 11.

Organisers are also looking for vehicles to celebrate a number of significant motoring anniversaries taking place this year. These are the 100th anniversary of the first Bentley being built, the 70th birthday of the Jaguar XK120, the 60th birthday of the Mini and the 60th anniversary of the 1959 British Grand Prix at Aintree.

War Horse is making a welcome return

JOEY the life-sized horse puppet from National Theatre's acclaimed production of War Horse visited Liverpool on Wednesday, July 17, ahead of the show coming to the Liverpool Empire Theatre at the end of the month.

Joey made an appearance at Liverpool Central Library in the morning to say hello to fans from schools across the city before heading out in the afternoon to visit some of the city's most iconic sights.

Pupils from St Nicholas, St Vincent De Paul, Pleasant Street and Ranworth Square Primary Schools were let in on some behind-the-scenes secrets from Resident Puppetry director, Gareth Aled before Joey trotted in to the library's Discover room to meet them all.

On his travels, Joey even lent a hand to some friends from Merseyside Police's Mounted Section and joined them on patrol in St George's Quarter.

Police Horses Silver and Jake welcomed Joey and posed happily for photographs to celebrate the show's return to the city and to raise awareness for the Stand Tall Foundation, which raises money to support the fantastic work of the Mounted Section.

War Horse, the unforgettable theatrical event based on Michael Morpurgo's beloved novel, will return to play the Liverpool Empire Theatre from July 31 to August 17 .

War Horse last played at the Liverpool Empire in November 2017 to record number of audiences.

Directed by Marianne Elliott and Tom Morris, Nick Stafford's adaptation of Michael Morpurgo's remarkable story of courage, loyalty and friendship, about a young boy called Albert and his horse Joey, set against the backdrop of the First World War is the most successful play in the National Theatre's history.

It features ground-breaking puppetry work by South Africa's Handspring Puppet Company, which brings breathing, galloping horses to life on stage.

Opera Viva's concert was a 'scintillating evening'

Review by Ellen Campbell

On Broadway
Opera Viva
St. Mary's College, Crosby

WE were greeted by a glass of bubbly which put us in the mood right away to enjoy an evening of songs from many of the most famous musicals, performed by members of Opera Viva who treated the audience to a superb evening of entertainment.

The rich voices of the men singing There is nothing like a Dame and Steve Riordan's rendition of Ol' Man River were classic renditions and the ladies sang every bit as well, Pam Ashcroft receiving a standing ovation for her solo, Memory from Cats.

Kerry Firth and Freddie Ligertwood delighted us with Oh Happy We from Candide and there were medleys from Oklahoma! and Les Miserables.

Melvin Tay was welcomed as the company's new musical director and "old hand", David Palmer, was the producer. Artistic director was Viv Sharp and Robert Chesters provided the fine accompaniment.

Opera Viva's next performance is on Saturday, October 26 for their Gala Night. This is their 10th Annual Opera Concert with supper included and tickets are priced at £20. The meal starts at 6.30pm, and the concert at 8pm. Telephone 0151 558 1552 for more information.

Star rating: 8 out of 10. A scintillating evening.

See how Shankly and Paisley transformed Liverpool FC

THE compelling story of how Bill Shankly and Bob Paisley joined forces to transform Liverpool FC and English football will be told in Southport later this year to mark the 60th anniversary of Shankly's appointment as manager in December 1959.

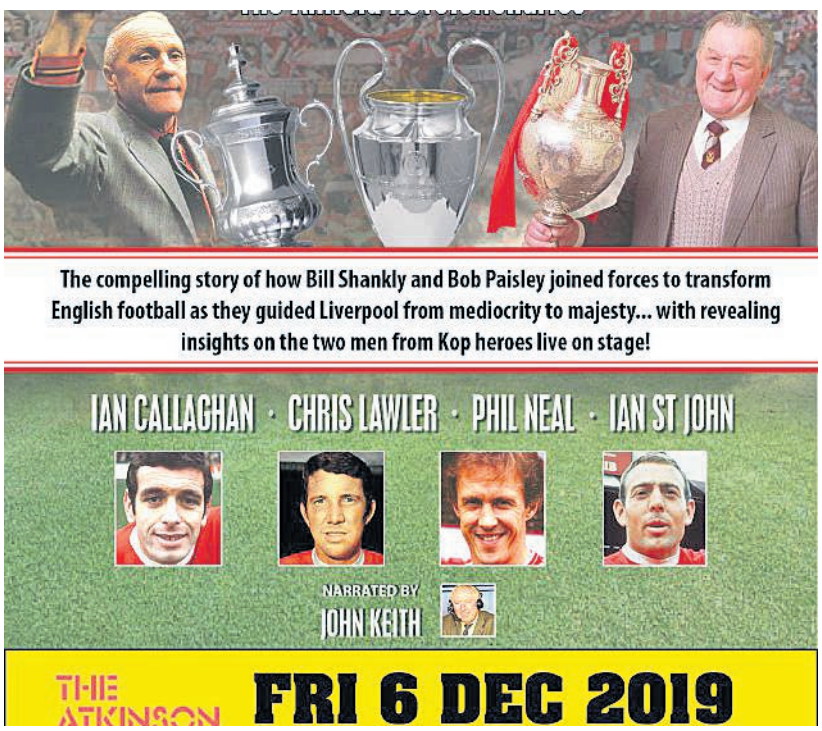
Narrated by writer and broadcaster John Keith and with Kop heroes Ian St John, Ian Callaghan, Chris Lawler and Phil Neal live on stage, Bill And Bob: The Anfield Revolutionaries will be staged at The Atkinson theatre on Friday evening, December 6.

The show charts Shankly's arrival at a club trapped in Second Division mediocrity and how he inspired a glorious revival of Liverpool fortunes.

The charismatic Scot, assisted by coach and physio Paisley, guided Liverpool to promotion, three League titles, two FA Cup triumphs ending the club's 73-year wait for the trophy in 1965 a UEFA Cup success and unbroken qualification for European football.

And when Shankly sensationally quit in 1974 Paisley succeeded him and went on to amass a stunning collection of 19 trophies in nine seasons, crowning Liverpool's 17-year journey from the second tier of English football to become kings of Europe in 1977.

Shankly and Paisley were poles apart in personality but shared an abiding passion and genius for building football teams and the show provides a unique, revealing insight into the two men who set the standards for future Anfield generations.



The compelling story of how Bill Shankly and Bob Paisley joined forces to transform English football as they guided Liverpool from mediocrity to majesty... with revealing insights on the two men from Kop heroes live on stage!

Bill And Bob: The Anfield Revolutionaries is coming to The Atkinson

Southport resident John Keith, who scripted the show, wrote biographies of both Shankly and Paisley.

The production also features exclusive audio and video material, under the technical direction of Gill Beattie, with songs from international artiste Ian Ross.

Tickets are now available in person at The Atkinson box office or by calling 01704 533333, or on line at: www.theatkinson.co.uk

Rare opportunity to acquire a new home in stunning Shoreside Birkdale development is unveiled to buyers.

LPC Living have completed their unique development of ten exclusive residential homes to the shoreside of Birkdale. These offer elegant coastal living with their unique design inspired architecturally and in-keeping with the grand Victorian villas in the locality. At the time of printing, Karen Potter of Karen Potter Estate Agents in Southport reported that buyers have been drawn by the location and proximity to superb amenities with only a few plots remaining. She added that many buyers are now eagerly awaiting their preview of the completed development which has already attracted a great deal of admiring attention in the town.

The development, which is superbly situated within walking distance of Birkdale Village and Southport Town Centre, not only affords residents cosmopolitan living - surrounded by the stunning flora, fauna and wildlife - in one of the region's most sought after locations. With excellent schools, it's very close proximity to Victoria Park and its annual Flower Show; the historic town of Southport and the north west of England's Championship gem golf links course, Royal Birkdale.

Simon Ashdown, Director at LPC Living commented, "It is rare to be able to deliver new homes so close to Birkdale village and we are excited about opening the now completed homes for sale."

The next OPEN DAY is being held
10am to 4pm on Saturday 27th July 2019

IN MEMORIAM

RIGBY JAMIE WILLIAM 'OUR JAY'

Tragically taken from us
27th July 2004
Aged 19 Years

'15 Long Years'

Remembering you
is easy,
We do it every day,
It's just the pain of losing you that never goes away.
They say that there's a reason,
They say that time
will heal,
But neither time
nor reason, will change the way we feel.
But no one knows the heartache, that hides behind
our smiles,
No one knows how many times,
we have broken down and cried.
To us you were so special,
What more can we say,
Except to wish with all our hearts, that you were here today.
Miss your beautiful face and your cheeky smile.

Reunited with little mate Taz.

Love always Broken-hearted Mum,
Dad, Sister Danielle
and Liam,
Stuart & family.

IN MEMORIAM

MARIA BERNADETTE WILSON

(Nee. Scogings)

12.02.1959 - 27.07.2018

Much loved Wife of Ricky.

A lonely year has since gone by on your sudden and very sad passing.
Not a day goes by that I don't think about our times together and you are never far from my thoughts.
There will always be a special place in my heart for you now and forever.

If I had three wishes,
I'd tell you what they'd be.
Million things that I would do,
but they'd be nothing
without you,
so I can't think of..... anything.
If I had three wishes,
'you' would be all.....
three.

We will meet again, just don't know where or when for now.
There will be no
Goodbyes.
Au Revoir till our time comes round again.

Love as always
Ricky

RIDING HELEN

In memoriam
25th July 2013

There are no words to describe what losing you meant.
Now we're only left with memories of the happy years we spent.
You'd want us all to smile again so that is what we'll do.
Every time we reminisce with loving thoughts of you.
Love and miss you
Mum.
Love Jeff xxx

Still hurting every day without you in our lives
but we get comfort in thinking of you
watching by our sides.
Watching the kids grow and play and watching down on us all from day to day.
Love and miss you
Mum.
Love from Robby,
Amy, Joe and Eva xxx

HELEN RIDING

Remembrance
25th July 2013

Remembering you
is easy we do it everyday, losing you is heartache that never goes away.
xx
Broken Hearted
Mum & Dad.
The Heartache goes on.
We miss you Helen.

IN MEMORIAM

FINEGAN JOHN

24th July 2009
10 years today

A truly amazing
Husband, Dad and Grandad.
Missed so much,
always in our thoughts, we know you're watching down on us
(cleaning our cars).
Love from Wendy,
Michelle, Eugene and Hannah and Ryan xxx

JULIE CARTER

(Nee McFarlane)
23rd July
Eleventh birthday away from home

You would be proud of Sam and Cerys.

You are in our thoughts and hearts
forever
Mum, Dad, Alan and Nicki

Until we meet again
over the rainbow

New drivers should be encouraged to learn about driving at night, not be banned from doing it

Boris, start off by sorting out this young drivers at night nonsense!

I'M NOT SURE how I feel about the bloke who used to be the motoring correspondent for GQ – and someone who posted a semi-respectable time as a Top Gear star in a reasonably priced car – being given the keys to an entire country.

Boris Johnson is the new Prime Minister. I suggest he starts – well, starts once he's got the small matter of working out whether we'll be leaving the EU sorted – by sorting out this nonsense about young drivers heading out at night, once and for all.

You might have noticed a slew of headlines in the national newspapers the other day suggesting that, as part of plans to bring in a new graduated driving licence, that newer drivers could face a ban from getting behind the wheel once it goes dark.

But once I'd pored through the details of the Department for Transport's new Road Safety Statement (I know, I should get out more) I couldn't actually find any details of this rather draconian-sounding plan.

What I did discover were findings from a study suggesting that there was insufficient evidence that 20mph speed limits in urban areas – that's you, highways people at Sefton Council and Lancashire County Council – had led to a significant change in collisions and casualties. It also noted that the number of annual road fatalities on British roads had barely changed since 2010, despite the volume of traffic increasing by eight per cent.

But what did pique my interest was the Government's target to increase the number of drivers who'd ventured out after sunset before taking their test from 82.5 per cent to more than 90 per cent; it's got similar plans for would-be-motorists practising their ability to drive independently, and those getting experience of tricky country roads, which have the highest accident rates.

Let's go hell for leather, Boris. I reckon the chap who did doughnuts – of the tyre-shredding, not confectionary-based, variety – in a Ginetta in the interests of plugging Brexit will agree emphatically with the idea of up 'n' coming motorists being given lessons in what it's like to rescue an ageing Proton from catastrophic understeer on a greasy country road. Youngsters should be taught just how irritating it is to have an Audi Q3 four inches off their rear bumper on a busy motorway, and how to respond safely; it might stop them becoming the culprit themselves a few years later.

In fact, I'd go even further than that. I'd take them to a private test track and let them feel an ABS system strut its stuff in an emergency stop, before taking them to the pitside café, treating them to four gin and tonics and letting them see for themselves exactly how being hammered knackers your reaction times.

Frankie Goes To Hollywood's Relax is all the proof you need that banning stuff doesn't work – and I reckon taking the same approach with driving and enjoying cars will have exactly the same result. But treating new drivers like adults and showing them how cars react in different situations, might actually encourage them to enjoy them properly…and safely.

Over to you, Boris.

Mini takes all-electric form for first time

THE MINI is being launched in all-electric form for the first time.

The zero-emissions version of the three-door hatchback is charged up at the same point where the petrol model's fuel filler cap would be, and takes 35 minutes to be charged up to 80 per cent capacity.

The car's maker also says that it has the same amount of room inside and bootspace as the petrol model, and that the suspension's been re-engineered to make sure it's just as much fun to drive.

Prices start at £24,400 and it's available to order now, with the first cars arriving here in March next year.

The electric MINI has now got re-designed suspension to make it more fun to drive

Here are what our customers are saying about us...

Kimberley. B - Verified Purchase
Great experience with Liverpool Car Centre! ★★★★★

Scott. B - Verified Purchase
Excellent ★★★★★

Paul. E - Verified Purchase
Friendly, informative and couldn't do enough to make sure I was happy with the car I bought. Got the deal done with speed and quality as I needed a very quick turnaround and they ensured this happened. Overall very happy. ★★★★★

Ian. B - Verified Purchase ★★★★★
From the moment I entered Liverpool Car Centre after being recommend by 5 friends who all bought a car from this showroom. I would without hesitation recommend this showroom to people that are looking to buy an excellent used car I will buy my next car here without a doubt

Kimberley. K - Verified Purchase
Would highly recommend Liverpool Car Centre, and will definitely be returning in the future to buy another ★★★★★

Mike. K - Verified Purchase ★★★★★
I have just purchased a BMW 420D from this dealership this is the 3rd car over the space of 10yrs I have bought from Liverpool car Centre I cannot recommend this dealership highly enough.

Burscough fall short at St Helens

IN the Second Division, Burscough were beaten away at St Helens Town.

The hosts were asked to bat first and declared on 185-5, with Jaidel Richardson 68 and Matthew Beilby 50 top scoring, whilst Chris Andrews took 4-44.

Navdeep Aujla top scored with 35 in Burscough's reply while Lee Berrie (26) and Josh Murray (27) bolstered the middle order.

The tail could not wag much, however, and Burscough were dismissed for 158 in the 48th over.

Richardson ended with figures of 4-18 while Liam Gaskell claimed 3-19.

Fourth placed Southport Trinity had a five wicket home win against Maghull, the visitors chose to bat and had to thank Jon Ring 79 and Anthony Molloy 40 for getting them to 149 all out, as the rest largely failed against Akshay Sreenivasan 4-47 and Mark Prince 3-41. In reply, Bobby Eyes 46, Jonny Hine 26, Tony Campbell 25* and Wim Van Der Walt 24 all helped Trinity to victory on 150-5.

Hightown St Mary's came out on top in a low scoring contest at Parkfield Liscard, the visitors were asked to bat and dismissed for 99, with Matt Laybourne 29 and skipper Ben Ashcroft top scoring, whilst Zaighum Abbas took 5-19 with the ball.

In reply, Jim Kelly took 6-19 as the hosts were dismissed for just 83.

Skelmersdale suffer heavy 121-run defeat

SKELMERSDALE suffered a 121 defeat at the hands of the Southport and District League leaders Merseyside Commonwealth Conference on Saturday.

MCC batted first and piled up a total of 232 for 8 in their 45 overs.

Rafiullah Assad top scored with 54 as the bowlers were put to the sword.

Matthew Wright claimed four wickets for 26 while Mike Houghton at least had the satisfaction of bowing out Mohamed Kaleel for a duck.

Unusually every wicket in the innings was out caught.

In Skelmersdale's reply both openers Joe Till and Houghton were out cheaply.

Matthew Wright and Jonas Smith were joint top scorers with 21 as Skem were dismissed for 111 in 32.4 overs.

Ormskirk storm into quarter-finals of National Cup

Knight leads way with bat to set up comfortable win

ORMSKIRK are in the quarter finals of the National Club Championship after beating a Nottinghamshire side by 96 runs on Sunday.

Choosing to bat first Ormskirk got off to a steady start with openers Alex rankin (26) and Tyler McGladdery putting on 33 runs for te first wicket.

Gary Knight with 62 anchored the middle of the innings taking on the Cuckney bowlers, along with George Lavelle (27) and Ian Robinson (34).

By the time Knight was dismissed it was 189-7 and the tail added a few more to leave Cuckney with a target of 197 to win.

Cuckney's batsmen never looked like getting near the target and they were all out in the 25th over for 100.

Tom Hartley was the leading wicket taker with 4-13 while Nicky Caunce and Scott Lees took two wickets each.

Ormskirk will play Yorkshire side Richmondshire away in the quarter-finals on Sunday, August 11.

Ormskirk sit in second place the Liverpool & District Cricket Competition Premier Division after a 24 run home win against Orrell Red Triangle.

Asked to bat first Ormksirk were able to declare on 192-7 thanks to runs from Tyler McGladdery 68 and Gary Knight 43, with Shahrukh Khan taking 4-22.

In Orrell RT's reply, Sam Heeley scored 44 and Richard Everett 42 but the visitors were eventually dismissed for 168 as Scott Lees (4-24) and Tom Hartley (4-53) sharing eight wickets.

Bootle opened up a 35 point lead at the top of the table after trouncing New Brighton by ten wickets at Wadham Road.

The visitors were put in to bat and dramatically collapsed from 29-1 to 47 all out, after a devastating spell of bowling from Hampshire all rounder Keith Barker who took nine wickets for 22 runs which included four wickets and a hat trick in his final over Mike Farrell 25* and Will Hale 22* then eased the hosts to victory on 48-0.

Formby got back to winning ways with a 75 run victory at Southport & Birkdale.

After electing to bat first Formby managed to put 195 up on the board thanks to runs from David Atkinson 39, James Seward 34 and Ben Aitchison 26. Gary Keedy was the pick of the bowlers taking 4-66.

In S&B's reply Will Affleck top scored with 43 while Jack Baybutt scored 27 but they were dismissed for 120 with Ollie Sutton 3-15 and Jackson Darkes-Sutcliffe 3-19 taking the bulk of the wickets.

Third placed Northern won by ten wickets at Rainhill, who were rolled over for just 61, with Tom Sephton 5-12, Liam Grey 3-31 and Danny Houghton 2-18 taking the wickets to fall. In reply, Chris Laker 32* and Taylor Cornall 27* then took Northern to victory.

THIS weekend's local LDCC fixtures: Formby v Wallasey, Lytham v S& B, New Brighton v Ormskirk, Northern v Leigh, Rainhill v Bootle, Fleetwood Hesketh v Birkenhead Park, Newton le Willows v Ainsdale, Alder v Southport Trinity, Burscough v Sutton, Hightown St Mary's v Caldy and Norley Hall v Maghull.

New kit unveiled

SKELMERSDALE United has unveiled their new home kit for the upcoming season.

The side's all blue strip is made by Macron and features new sponsors SEP Drainage Surveyors on the front of the shirt.

Skem secure sponsorship deals with two local firms

AN appeal by Skelmersdale United FC chairman Paul Griffiths for help from the local business community has brought forward sponsorship deals from two companies, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

SEP Drainage Surveyors has agreed to sponsor the playing kit for the coming season and one of the best known companies in Skelmersdale, Hotter Shoes, has also stepped forward to support their home town team by sponsoring the players and coaches tracksuits.

A club spokesperson said: "We are very pleased to be associated with both these prestigious companies, who have shown faith in the club and its ambitions.

"We will endeavour to highlight and promote these companies on our travels throughout the land and in doing so we hope to forge a lasting relationship."

This is particularly good news for the club as they move to bring in more support from the local business community and they clearly hope it will inspire other companies to join them.

Vice chairman and commercial manager Norman Fenney added: "This really is great news.

"However, there are still plenty of opportunities available for others to join the two and have their names appear alongside companies who such good reputations and national profile."

The club has also thanked previous sponsor Messenger Express.

A club offical said: "We will not forget our previous main sponsor Paul Sammons and Messenger Express, without whom we can categorically say this club would not have survived the turmoil it was faced with."

Skelmersdale United continued their pre-season with a 3-0 victory over Wakefield FC last Saturday.

Goals from John Keatley, Alex Griffiths and a triallist eased the side to a comfortable win as they step up their preparations for the new season.

They have a game tonight (Wednesday, July 24), away to Lower Breck and then host Prescot Cables on Tuesday, August 30 at 7.30pm.

Skelmersdale begin their league campaign on Saturday, August 3 when they make the short trip to play Ashton Athletic away.

Burscough continued their winning pre-season run on Saturday when they won 2-1 at Vauxhall Motors.

They open their season on the same day as Skem, with a home game against Winsford United before an away game at Squires Gate the following Tuesday.
